SMS Privacy Supplement

Effective upon publication by Tax Elite Accounting Services Inc.

This supplement describes the client texting program operated by Tax Elite Accounting Services Inc. It addresses our SMS/MMS activities separately from American Marketing & Publishing's website services and policies.

Information used for the texting program

We process mobile numbers, message content, communication preferences, opt-in and opt-out records, and delivery information to answer client questions, provide service updates, operate messaging and document consent. Please do not send Social Security numbers, tax documents or financial account details by text.

Sharing and service providers

No mobile information will be shared with third parties or affiliates for marketing or promotional purposes. Text messaging opt-in data and consent will not be shared with third parties for marketing or promotional purposes.

We may provide information to service providers supporting delivery and operation of this texting program, including our messaging platform and telecommunications providers, as necessary to provide the service. We may also disclose information as required by law. These disclosures do not authorize third-party marketing use of mobile information or consent.

Retention and security

We retain program information as needed to provide service, document communication preferences and consent, and meet applicable legal obligations. We use reasonable safeguards; standard SMS/MMS is not end-to-end encrypted. Do not treat texting as a secure channel for sensitive tax information.
